"And There Wasn't the Slightest Smell From Dead Rats."

Writes John Sompkins, farmer of Annandale, N. J. "Rats were costing me hundreds yearly; tried dogs, ferrets, poison, could not get rid of them. Bought $1.00 pkg. of RAT-SNAP (5 cakes). Used half, not a live rat since. Dead ones aplenty. I like RAT-SNAP because after killing rats it dries them up—leaves no smell." Three sizes, 25c, 50c, $1.00. Sold and guaranteed by Lefler's Drug Store and Kohn Hardware Co., Hayti.

LEADING NEWS ITEMS

THE Franco-German situation has developed a serious phase. Germany, for the alleged purpose of subduing the Communist regime in the Ruhr basin, sent a considerable force of troops into the occupied zone east of the Rhine, notwithstanding the provisions of the Treaty of Versailles prohibiting such action and also notwithstanding the refusal of France to consent, and France quickly responded by assuming military control of Frankfurt, and other near-by German cities, as a means of guaranteeing, as it was claimed, that Germany would withdraw, without undue delay, her forces from the occupied zone further down the Rhine. After taking this action France presented the facts to the Governments of the other Allied Powers and asked their support in the matter. Belgium promptly agreed to back France. England, however, took the opposite position and similar positions seem likely to be assumed by both Italy and the United States. The British protest has been answered by France by the sending of more troops into Germany and late reports are to the effect that Germany is also pouring more troops into the Ruhr basin, thus causing the matter to assume a most serious aspect. Of course, neither Germany nor France want or can afford again to engage in war, but the situation is the most critical that has arisen since the signing of the Armistice.

2,000 Communists have crossed the Rhine into the British zone of occupation and been interned and hundreds of others are expected. This flight of such large numbers of Communists into occupied territory is considered an indication that the revolt in the Ruhr region is near an end and that the reason assigned for the sending of German troops there will soon cease to exist and their recall be in order if the German Government is acting in good faith in the matter. There are some slight indications of such withdrawal within a few days, but at the present writing the situation is gravely tense.

IN POLITICAL circles much interest has been aroused by the results in the Michigan primaries, Senator Hiram Johnson of California having apparently defeated General Leonard Wood by a plurality of about 45,000 as a Republican candidate and Herbert Hoover leading Governor Edwards of New Jersey, his nearest Democratic competitor, by about 5,000 votes. With 1,827 precincts out of 2,421 accounted for, the vote for the Republican candidates was as follows: Johnson 143,524; Wood 96,825; Lowden 52,349; Hoover 49,461. The vote for the Democratic candidates was: Hoover 22,752; Edwards 17,293, with McAdoo, Bryan and Palmer following in the order named.

PICKETING in Washington started again a few days ago. This time it was not the White House that was picketed but the British Embassy, the excuse for such action being the absurd hope of forcing England, by such methods to grant freedom to Ireland. At first it seemed that the country was to witness another distressing and long-drawn-out spectacle like that of the picketing of the White House by Suffragists some months ago; however, resort was soon had to the making of arrests and the nuisance apparently abated. The picketers then took up the plan of flying airplanes over the Embassy and dropping pro-Irish literature on the building and grounds, but this plan proved costly and ineffective. So far the members of the Embassy have treated the matter lightly but there is much speculation as to what will happen next.
